

Creating Leaders

*A shocking 82% of managers are not strong leaders.
(2016 Gallup Poll).*

We understand this difficult challenge and work to enable leaders to be their very best by way of coaching and profiling.

Coaching

One-on-one or small group coaching provides a powerful way to support leaders in their growth.

"I would highly recommend Rachel to companies looking to lift their business performance through improvements in the capabilities of the leadership teams".

Robin Baxter, GM Refining NZ.

"Rachel has provided business coaching for our senior leadership team. I wanted someone to grow this team into industry leaders. I cannot recommend Rachel highly enough". Graham White. White Associates.

Psychometric profiling

We all have dysfunctional tendencies. The Hogan's leadership series is powerful at helping leaders understand and mitigate these tendencies, while building on their strengths.

Profiling and coaching together supercharges leadership development.
