

Successful Hiring Workshops

Successful hiring is not fully outsourced. The understanding and involvement of hiring managers is essential.

Our experience is whether recruitment is done in house, or externally, the more hiring managers understand the better the hiring decisions.

The best hires involve your team and some assistance. We work with you to support line managers, upskilling them on key factors to recruitment success.

Sessions, either one-on-one or in small groups, equip first line managers with the skills they need for successful hires.

We also provide support in psychometric profiling, reference checking and interviews as needed. You choose how much or how little ongoing support you need (our goal is less over time, not more).

Claire is always well organised and has things well planned. She runs a smooth ship that is not too serious and creates a positive learning environment where you can have fun and learn at the same time"
Brendan Oakden, Operations Manager, IPL.

Get in touch for an obligation free consultation.

info@mcinnesassociates.com